MAZDA INTRODUCES FAMILY OF CROSSOVER SUVs

-- 2007 CX-9 and 2008 Tribute displayed at Salon de l'auto de Québec --

(Richmond Hill, ON): Following its third consecutive year of record-breaking sales, Mazda Canada is setting the stage for another successful year. Highlighting Mazda's display at this year's Salon de l'auto de Québec is the new 2007 CX-9 intermediate crossover SUV and the 2008 Tribute compact SUV, which has been completely redesigned. Both vehicles join the sporty CX-7 crossover SUV in Mazda dealerships to deliver one of the most dynamic crossover SUV line-ups on the market.

The 2007 CX-9 is a refined, 7-passenger crossover SUV with outstanding driving dynamics, exceptional fit and finish, and is the most luxurious of Mazda's family of SUVs. Going on sale in March of this year, the re-designed 2008 Tribute, with four- or six-cylinder engines available, offers plenty of functionality, is fun-to-drive, and is Mazda's entry-level SUV.

"The CX-9 and re-designed Tribute perfectly complement our CX-7 and offer consumers very interesting choices when shopping for a crossover or sport utility vehicle," said Don Romano, president of Mazda Canada Inc. "Adding these two new models to our showroom of award-winning vehicles certainly sets the stage for another year of growth in 2007," he continued.

Rounding out the Mazda display in Quebec is the full complement of Mazda's award-winning vehicles such as the Mazda3, Mazda5, Mazda6, MX-5, RX-8, MAZDASPEED3, MAZDASPEED6, and B-Series pickup truck.
